Shisha (hookah) Pipe "Nargile" Experience

A shisha (hookah) pipe, which is called a "Nargile" in Turkey is surprisingly popular activity of all ages. You can order tobacco in a variety of flavors, and spend hours lounging around, smoking and drinking tea.

The nargile has long been a prominent part of Turkish culture, although the introduction of cigarettes led to a serious decline in its stature. Lately, though, it's been making a comeback among young people. It's completely different to smoking a cigarette. You take your time with a nargile, and usually smoke with a group of friends. It's social, and a lot more tranquil than hurriedly puffing down a cigarette as you rush off down the sidewalk.

Besides which, it tastes great. Apple is the mainstay, but you can try cherry, banana, coffee, orange or melon flavors, in addition to many others.
